Annual Biomedical Conference for Minority Students (ABRCMS)

ABRCMS is a professional conference for underrepresented minority students interested in pursuing advanced studies and training in biomedical disciplines. The conference was held on November 9-12, 2016 in Tampa, Florida. The conference provided many valuable resources to students, faculty, student training program directors and staff to prepare students for careers in biomedical research. Xavier University had a group of 39 students attend the conference. ABRCMS allowed the students to present their research and network with representatives from graduate programs, and STEM professionals about research opportunities and funding sources.

ABRCMS is in its third year and has established a presence. Eighteen undergraduate students and two postbaccalaureate technicians attended the conference. Nineteen Xavier BUILD attendees made presentations at the meeting. Khari Gilmore and Huang Michael Nguyen received awards for their poster presentations.
